On Solid Ground (AN EDITORIAL)

Salem's sesquicentennial celebration, a joyous community-wide birthday party, is over, but happy memories of it will linger with most of us for months and years to come.

One thing stood out in the 150th observance of Salem's founding. It was the spirit of brotherhood, the spirit of neighborliness and of participation in all the events that transcended everything else.

It required months of planning to prepare for the week's festivities and each and every committee is to be commended. The pageantry and parades were thrilling sights, the historical displays most interesting and the frivolity sessions carried the warmth of a tonic. The union service opening the observance reminded us of our religious heritage, that we might always conform our ways with God's plan for mankind.

Yes, the city's first 150 years are behind her, years of growth and achievement since 1806 when President Thomas Jefferson dipped his pen into an ink well and signed his name to a document that confirmed the sale of the first tract of land that was to become Salem.

Like the early pioneers, Salem's citizens of today are also men of vision, industrious and God-fearing. New achievements will come—economically, industrially and socially—because the people of Salem, with apologies to no one, realize that they live in one of the finest communities in the United States.

With such a solid foundation, Salem's pathway is brighter and leads only in one direction—forward!

Ministers Urge City Council Act To Ban Pinball Machines

"Gambling in any form is a moral problem in Salem, and, unless it is rigorously controlled, it tends toward the corruption of civic virtue and the intangible values which alone are the reasons for the strength and enduring worth of our city."

This statement was issued today by the Salem and Vicinity Ministers Association in support of terial Association in support of Mayor Dean B. Cranmer's ban on pinball machines after the Ohio Supreme Court had ruled "free play" pinball machines were gambling devices.

Signed by 10 members of the Ministerial Association, the pastors' open letter concerning the pinball machines reads as follows:

"In Saturday's issue of The News reference was made to the position of some of the ministers of Salem regarding the mayor's ban on pinball machines. As members of the Ministerial Association we wish to register our support of the mayor's position more fully and corporately."

"Anyone who knows anything about the operation and control of these 'harmless amusement devices' so widely used for illegal gambling, knows that this is relatively big business, even in Salem."

"It is our belief that when the pinball machines are in operation in any form the moral and spiritual life of the community is degraded and injured."

"These men and groups of men are operating these machines for one reason only: For personal profit. And this profit is often at a high cost to impressionable individuals who form habits of gambling that later prove costly to them and to their families."

"Surely the majority of the citizens of Salem desire a community where children can grow to virtuous and responsible manhood and womanhood without being assailed by some of the unnecessary evil forces which we believe to be inherent in the very principles of gambling."

"Gambling in any form is a moral problem in Salem and, unless it is rigorously controlled, it tends toward the corruption of civic virtue and the intangible values which alone are the reasons for the strength and enduring worth of our city."

"Therefore, we urge City Council to act speedily specifically to outlaw all kinds of pinball machines, 'games of skill,' and other gambling devices in Salem."

"Furthermore, we encourage all residents to support the mayor's ban on pinball machines."

Nixon Confers With President At Hospital

Says They Didn't
Discuss Ike's Plans
On Running Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon conferred with President Eisenhower at Walter Reed Hospital today but reported there was absolutely no discussion of whether Eisenhower intends to remain in the presidential race.

Nixon told a news conference after the visit that Eisenhower will "speak for himself" in answer to the big question when he feels the time is right.

Asked whether there was any discussion whatever of politics at his meeting with the President, Nixon replied:

"The answer is no. That is categorical without any qualification."

Eisenhower himself, Nixon went on, will "select the time and place" for discussion of his political future.

The vice president added that he has "great confidence" the President "will weigh all the factors concerned and make the proper decision."

A reporter told Nixon there have been some suggestions that he should reappraise his own political position in the light of Eisenhower's new illness.

Nixon noted that on Feb. 29 Eisenhower announced he was willing to run for a second term. Nixon said he believes that until the President announces any change in his plans, "the rest of us" should not discuss the situation.

Dulles Visits Ike
Secretary of State Dulles also visited Eisenhower.

The vice president saw Eisenhower first, spending about 15 minutes with him.

Then they were joined by Dulles for about five minutes. Nixon said he could not discuss the nature of that business at this time, but that it had no relation to politics.

After the joint conference, Dulles was alone with Eisenhower for about 10 minutes on what press secretary James C. Hagerty described as "State Department matters."

The 8 a. m. medical bulletin issued before he received Nixon and Dulles, said he now weighs 162 pounds — seven pounds less than when he was admitted to the hospital June 8 for emergency abdominal surgery.

When Nixon met with reporters, the first question put to him was whether he got any impression as to whether Eisenhower intends to remain in the presidential race.

Fire Kills 19 Troops Hunting Rebel Chief

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Nineteen British soldiers, engaged in a hunt for Greek Cypriot rebel chiefs in the Troodos Mountains, were trapped by a forest fire Sunday and lost their lives, British authorities announced today.

Eighteen others were injured, some of them seriously, when a sudden shift of wind blew the fire at the troops.

Many young servicemen were injured when the blaze caught their vehicles and the fuel tanks blew up.

The injured were evacuated from the area by helicopter.

About 2,000 British troops had been engaged in an extensive operation in the area for several days, seeking to close in on George Grivas, the former Greek army colonel the British say leads the terrorist rebel organization EOKA under the name of "Digenis."

The British believed they were about to close the net on Grivas and 10 other EOKA leaders who went into a forest fire broke out Sunday in the sun-baked ridges.

Registration For Swim Classes Set Each Day

Registration for free swimming classes at the Centennial Park pool will be held at the pool from 10 a. m. to noon each day this week through Saturday, Lee Burton, superintendent of parks and recreation, said today.

The swimming classes will start next Monday instead of Friday as scheduled, Burton said.

Huge Crowds See Final, Biggest Sesqui Parade

Throngs of 18,000 to 20,000 persons jammed the city's streets Saturday evening to view the Veterans Day parade which climaxed the city's sesquicentennial.

The parade, its long line of march extending over an hour and 50-minute period, was bigger and more diversified than the parade Wednesday which was said then to have been the largest parade ever to take place in Salem.

Although 131 sections participated in the colorful panorama of marching, each section contained numerous divisions. John Herman Jr., parade chairman, said that the total number of individual units which participated went far above the 131 section total.

Bands, drum and bugle groups, military units, majorettes and floats combined to form the picturesque parade which was climaxed by a two-hour show at Reilly Stadium viewed by some 2,000 persons.

Over 150 military men were represented in the armed services retinue which consisted of the Army Reserve Tank Battalion from Salem, the National Guard, Air Force, and Marine Corps Air Reserve.

Many of the floats which had appeared in the Wednesday parade were seen again Saturday, although some them had been altered to conform with the Veterans Day theme.

Trophies will be awarded to winners of the floats in three divisions: military, commercial, and non-commercial. Also, prizes will be given to outstanding bands, original characters depicted and color guard groups. Winners will be announced in the near future.

One of the most unique groups in the parade was the Oriental

Joint Steel Talks Ended

Union, Companies
Negotiate Individually

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Steelworkers of America today returned to its old method of negotiating with individual companies after abruptly halting joint negotiations with the Big Three steel companies.

Union President David J. McDonald said the joint talks with Bethlehem, Republic and U.S. Steel, first ever held in the basic steel industry, "have gotten nowhere."

McDonald and U.S. Steel Vice President John A. Stephens said, however, that the decision to hold talks with 11 individual steel companies did not mean the Big Three negotiations were dissolved.

To Keep In Contact
"We shall be in communication with each other," said McDonald, after a 90-minute meeting Sunday ended in a stalemate. Both sides said the situation has not altered since the union rejected Big Three's offer of a five year contract. This called for package wage and fringe benefits which the companies said amounted to about 65 cents an hour over the length of the contract.

The companies said this would mean 17 1/2 cents the first year, but the union said the take-home pay would be "about a nickel." Present wages for 650,000 steelworkers average $2.48 an hour.

McDonald termed it "too little and too late" and made plans to begin individual negotiations with the Big Three companies and with Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown, Inland Great Lakes, Wheeling, Allegheny-Ludlum, Pittsburgh and Arco.

Failure to reach agreement by June 30 when present contracts expire could lead to a strike in the pivotal industry.

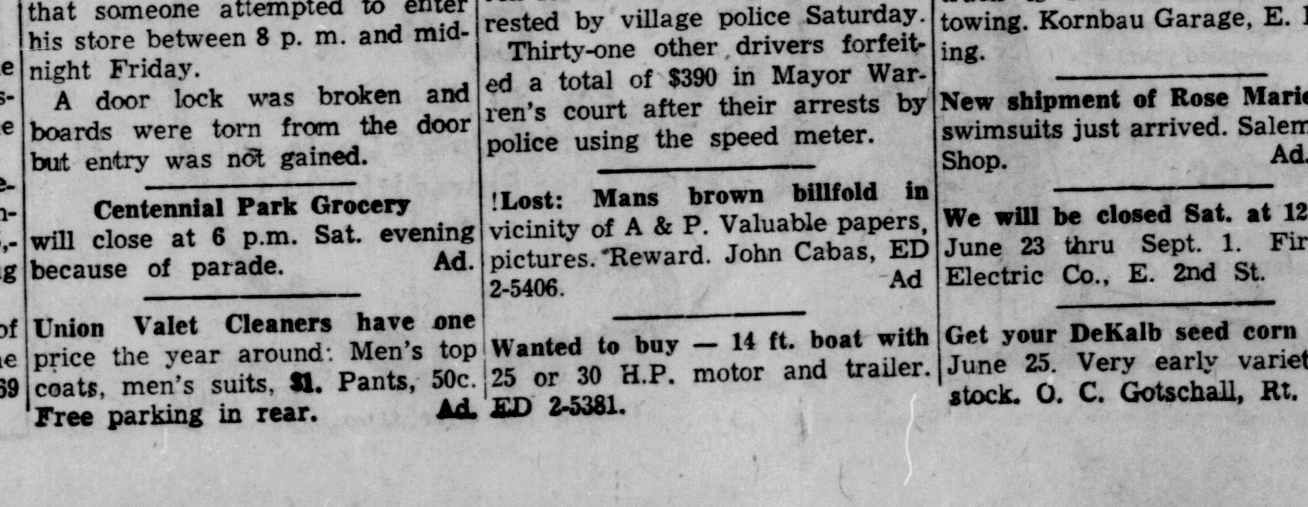

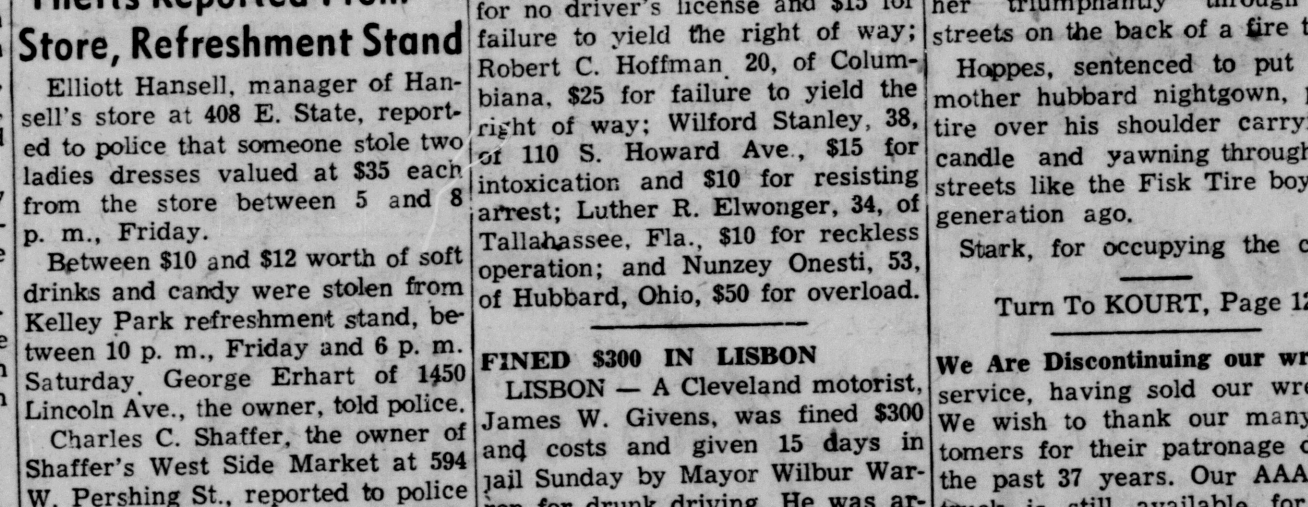

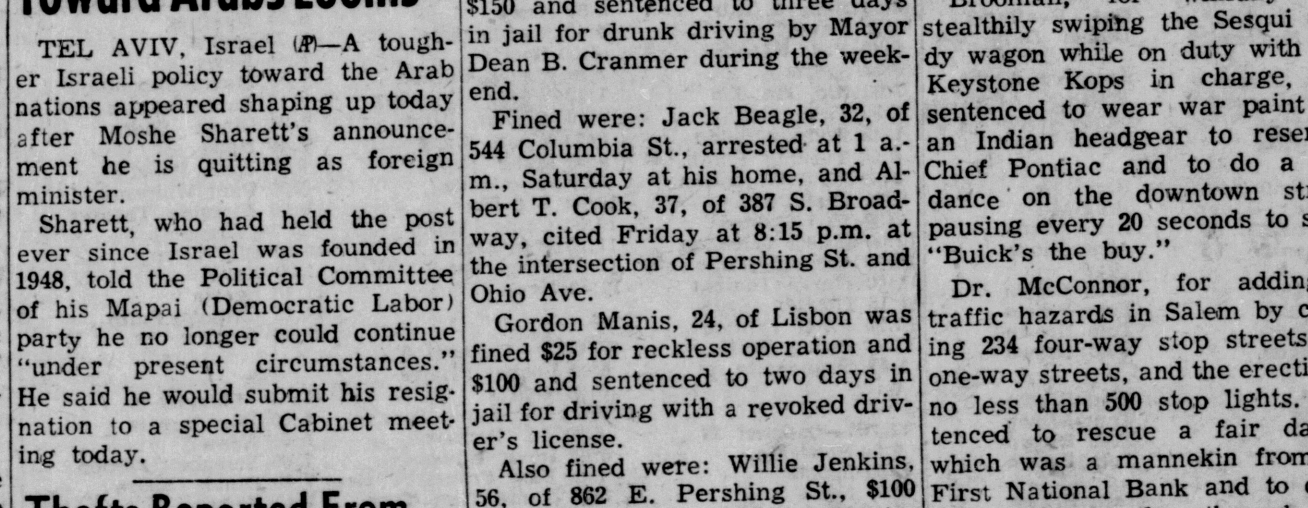

In the past the union has negotiated separately with each of the companies, but its contract with U.S. Steel usually set the pattern for the entire industry.

Central Clinic To Get Ford Foundation Check

The Central Clinic is among the 959 voluntary and nonprofit hospitals to receive checks from the Ford Foundation.

Checks totaling $26,080,200 are being mailed this week by the foundation. The Clinic will receive $15,800 as initial payment representing one-half the total grant.

In two previous mailings of checks, in April and May, some 2,000 hospitals received nearly $69 million.

Barbara Kump Is Victim In Minerva Pool

Body Found In 9 Feet
Of Water; Firemen
Fail To Revive Child

Barbara Kump, 9, of Winona, drowned at about 3:30 p. m. Sunday in the municipal swimming pool at Minerva.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kump, she had been swimming in the concrete pool with a group of girl friends when they discovered her missing. At first it was believed she had left the pool, but after searching the park without finding her, the girl's father notified the lifeguards.

Unable To Revive Victim
After the pool was cleared, the child's body was found in about nine feet of water. Minerva firemen used an inhalator on the girl for some time but were unable to revive her.

A doctor who pronounced her dead estimated she had been in the water about 45 minutes to an hour.

The Kump family was planning to move to Minerva soon. She was born in Columbus, Nov. 10, 1946.

Attended United School
A resident of Winona four years, she attended the Winona Methodist Church and United Local School, where she would have entered the fifth grade next fall.

Besides her parents, she leaves a brother, James of the home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G.

Area Man Dies In Car Mishap

Fractures Skull
As Auto Overturns

A Youngstown area motorist was killed early Sunday morning when his automobile failed to negotiate a curve and overturned on Rt. 7, one and three-tenths miles north of the Columbiana — Mahoning County line, the State Highway Patrol reported today.

Robert L. Burns, 23, of Cornersburg was pronounced dead on arrival at Youngstown South Side Hospital. Death was caused by a fractured skull.

According to patrolmen, the car left the road at a high rate of speed and rolled over in a field at 3:05 a. m. Patrolmen said the field looked as though it had been dug up by a power shovel where the auto rolled over.

The victim was born at West Liberty, O., Oct. 17, 1932, the son of W. Frank and Mabel Fitzsimmons Burns. He married Lera Slagle April 28, 1956.

A former resident of New Waterford, he served with the Army for two years, receiving his discharge in November. He was employed as a mill worker by the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

Besides his wife, he leaves his parents of Wellsville, and a sister, Mrs. Betty Wilson of New Springfield.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the VanDyke Funeral Home in East Palestine, with Rev. Clayton Gortner, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Church of New Springfield, officiating. Burial will be in Clarkson Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 p. m.

City Street Oiling Program Is Announced

Service Director James Feiler announced his department will oil city streets from today through June 30.

City residents who want their streets or alleys oiled must present a petition signed by property owners to either the service director or the city clerk at City Hall. Each property owner must pay four cents per front foot for the oiling of the streets and three cents per foot for oiling alleys.

Feiler said no oiling will be done until a petition accompanied by the correct amount of money is received by the city.

Kangaroo Court Sentences 5 On Last Day

Five Salem men were tried before the final session of the Sesqui Kangaroo Court Saturday afternoon when Horace Schwartz and Albert Hanna acted as prosecutors and James Schaeffer was judge.

Tried and sentenced were Glenn Broomall, Arthur Stark, Dr. Donald Lease, Dr. R. J. McConner, Tim Hoppes.

Charges and sentences were as follows:

Broomall, for willfully and stealthily swiping the Sesqui paddy wagon while on duty with four Keystone Kops in charge, was sentenced to wear war paint and an Indian headgear to resemble Chief Pontiac and to do a war dance on the downtown streets pausing every 20 seconds to shout "Buick's the buy."

Dr. McConner, for adding to traffic hazards in Salem by creating 234 four-way stop streets, 190 one-way streets, and the erection of no less than 500 stop lights. Sentenced to rescue a fair damsel which was a mannekin from the First National Bank and to carry her triumphantly through the streets on the back of a fire truck.

Hoppes, sentenced to put on a mother Hubbard nightgown, put a tire over his shoulder carrying a candle and yawning through the streets like the Fisk Tire boy of a generation ago.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Harry Truman, tourist, is heading home for his last political roundup. When he is finished corraling delegates for Stuart Symington at the national convention next August, the ex-president plans to ease up his party activity and pass his power on to a younger man.

From then Victor Riesel can out the Democrats will hitch their wagon to a Lone Star, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, who once wanted to be president himself but now will be content to be the power behind the White House, when and if, the Democrats move in.

This means that the nation's labor leaders will have even greater power in the Democratic Party than they have today with their city by city clubhouse coalitions in the factory laden north.

THE NATIONAL LABOR chiefs, especially those militant ones out of the old CIO, have quite a hold on Lyndon Johnson and the Texas Democratic Party — strange as it may seem to observers in New York or Chicago.

What these observers just don't realize is that Texas has half a million union members in some of the most politically sophisticated unions.

It is not generally known up north that these unions rustled up enough money and manpower to help Sen. Lyndon Johnson take the Democratic Party away from such conservatives as Gov. Allan Shivers, and that Texas' labor politicians now have an operating base which soon will give them as much influence in the southwest and then in the south as the unions have in some northern states.

This may not awaken any great enthusiasm in Mr. Johnson, leader of the Senate's Democrats, but the labor people in Texas are his political partners. And when the Texas delegation gets up to the nominating convention, they'll have some real power over the votes cast for a presidential candidate by the delegation.

FOR EVIDENCE of this just look at the delegation of 11 which will go to the convention from the county which covers Houston. Five of the 11 are labor men or union attorneys.

My scouts in Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin and San Antonio say the pattern was repeated there. Only metropolis I haven't heard from is Riesel, Texas.

That seems to me to be one of the big political developments of the moment. It is the beginning of a pincer move to link the Democratic labor coalitions of the north with those bounting in the south. It has escaped national attention — but sooner or later it will be as controversial as FDR's famed "Clear it with Sidney."

done in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Oregon, California and other such states.

Money and manpower came from Walter Reuther's Auto Union, Al Hayes' Machinists, the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the Communications Workers, the Steel Union and Mike Quill's Transport Workers Union.

With this well oiled juggernaut ready for action, the unions' high command moved into the fight for control of the Democratic Party state convention.

Whoever controls the state convention, controls the state party. Up to that fight, the Lone Star Democratic Party was split between the conservatives behind Gov. Shivers, who had bolted to Eisenhower in '52, and the regular Democratic organization.

AFTER THE STATE convention, the party was in the hands of the anti-Shivers bloc much of which is controlled by the unions.

In some of the larger cities, around which cluster big auto and aircraft plants, union chiefs had spent over a year and a half organizing for this fight in every precinct.

In Houston, for example, there was a list of 1,000 delegates to the state convention from Harris County. The majority were either union leaders or union members. There

JOHNSON'S New political partners cut in on him the hard way. The labor strategists simply decided to do in Texas what they have labor's political machine worked out of the Electrical Union Building.

Harris County has the largest voting strength in the state and carried the most weight at the state convention in Dallas. It was carried by labor and its allies. The unionists took 150 of the 300 precincts and Shivers' people took 100.

THE JOHNSON organization claimed no precinct victories there in Houston. However, the labor votes were cast for Sen. Johnson's team, although he deliberately refrained from visiting labor's political headquarters when he got to Houston. Gov. Shivers himself conceded that, "In key cities the effective organized forces of union labor carried the day (for Johnson)."

But this powerful Democratic leader, now controlling the Senate and soon to control the party, will have to listen to his labor partners in and out of Texas when he and his colleagues nominate a candidate for the presidency.

Keep your eyes on Texas. A new political era is dawning there.

Like A Gift of Gold

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Each day now," said Kate Smith, "is like a gift greater than gold."

After 25 fabulous years in radio and television, the "ello Everybody" girl is going to take it easy from now on.

"I plan only limited guest appearances—maybe six or eight a year," said Kate. "I've reached a stage of life where it is time to start slowing down."

She reached the decision after her longtime manager and partner, Ted Collins, was stricken with a heart attack early this year.

"I saw him lying under an oxygen tent, week after week, trying to breathe," she recalled. "We had worked so long and so hard. And I asked myself—'For what?' What is the point in killing your self."

"If I didn't want to work another day, I wouldn't have to. I haven't had a check bounce yet. I don't have to work now except for sheer pleasure."

"Yes," said Collins drily, as he forked up a bit of shrimp luncheon salad. "You got money to go home on."

Kate, who started as a teen-age singer whose plumpness often made her the butt of Broadway musical comedy jokes, proved that most of the country can be made to love a fat girl with a stout heart.

Since her first broadcast in May 1931 she has starred on 10,342 radio shows, made 1,040 television appearances and recorded more than 2,200 songs. She has received as much as $38,000 a week, and her gross lifetime earnings exceed $5 million dollars.

"I can't think of any entertainer in history, man or woman, who has beaten that record, unless it's Bing Crosby," said Collins.

Kate is proud of the fact that over the years she has received some 25 million fan letters. She is proud that in a number of public polls she has been named among the 10 most important and best-loved women of her time. But she is proudest of all of the day when President Franklin D. Roosevelt, presenting her to King George and Queen Elizabeth of England, said:

"This is Kate Smith; this is America."

Columbiana Bible School To Be Open To Parents

COLUMBIANA — A class for parents in addition to classes for children will be a feature of the vacation Bible school in which three churches are cooperating, Grace Evangelical and Reformed, the Methodist and the Presbyterian.

The school will open this evening and continue with sessions from 7 to 9 p.m. daily, Mondays through Fridays, until Friday, June 29, inclusive.

Rev. Donald J. Voelm of Grace Church and Rev. W. S. Longworth of the Methodist Church, who will have charge of the parents' class, have selected instructors and the subjects they are to teach.

Dr. J. R. Moorehead will give instruction in "Your Child's Health;" Mrs. Voelm, "Childhood Patterns;" D. W. Bailey, superintendent of schools, "Your Child's Education;" the Rev. Mr. Longworth, "Family Worship;" Eldon Strausbaugh, "Disciplining Children;" the Rev. Mr. Voelm, "Family Fun;" Mrs. Donald C. Perrin, "Children and Their Friends."

The entire school will assemble in the Methodist church at 7 p.m.

Leetonia Area Youth To Take Pool Lessons

LEETONIA — All boys and girls in the Letonia School District between the ages of 6 and seniors in high school will have the opportunity to participate in the free swimming program at Firestone Park every Thursday morning starting June 21 and ending Aug. 2.

Instructions will be given to those who are interested in learning the basic fundamentals of swimming from 9 to 10 a.m.

All Washingtonville students are asked to meet at Don Weikart's. Leetonia students are asked to be at either Wood's corner near the high school or at the bus station in town.

A bus will leave Washingtonville at 8:30 a.m. and Leetonia at 8:40 a.m. for those students who are interested in the instructions given from 9 to 10. Only those wishing instructions will be permitted on this bus. A second bus will leave Washingtonville at 9:20 and Leetonia at 9:30 a.m. with the remainder of the students.

The supervisors are trying to encourage all parents to permit their children to participate in this free swimming program. There will be ample supervision. All girls are required to have a bathing cap with them before they may enter the pool.

Mrs. Allen Haller, Mrs. Thomas Tilley, Mrs. Phillip Coreno, Mrs. William Belling, Mrs. William Fodding, Mrs. Les Tingle, Mrs. Albert Weikart, and Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton have offered their assistance in the supervision of this program.

Mrs. Rosa Cox has returned from Lebanon, Ky. where she was called last week due to the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Anna Belle Abell.

Miss Jeanette Gallo has accepted a position with the Kaiser Co. of Columbiana starting this morning. Mrs. Arthur Spatholt entertained her 500 Card Club at her home last Wednesday evening.

The public is invited to attend a 500-luncheon sponsored by D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge, Wednesday afternoon, June 20, starting at 1:30 p.m. Lunch will be served at 1. Prizes will be awarded.

Mrs. Vernon Walters will entertain the Past Noble Grand Club in the Rebekah Hall this evening, June 18th.

Mrs. Carl Selin of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida is visiting her sister, Mrs. Anna Floding.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carney and children enjoyed a two week vacation in New York state and other points of interest in the East.

REV. BERTRAM DIES

AKRON, Ohio — Pontifical requiem mass will be conducted by Bishop Emmett M. Walsh of the Youngstown Catholic diocese on Wednesday morning for the Rev. Frederick John Bertram, 67, who died in St. Thomas Hospital here Saturday. He had been pastor at St. Joseph's Shrine parish in Randolph, Portage County, since 1928. A native of Sandusky, he was ordained in Cleveland in 1916.

Msgr. J. T. Daley, 71, Dies In Cleveland

CLEVELAND — Archbishop Edward F. Hoban of the Cleveland diocese will officiate at a pontifical mass Wednesday morning for Msgr. James T. Daley, 71, who died Sunday in the rectory of St. Aloysius Catholic Church where he had been pastor since 1937.

Msgr. Daley had been recovering from a heart ailment.

Born in Ashtabula, he was ordained in 1910 and held pastorates at the Immaculate Conception Church of Ravenna and St. Mary's Church in Elyria before becoming St. Aloysius pastor. From 1938 to 1948 he was pro-synodal judge in the Cleveland diocese and for two years prior to that was dean of the Lorain deanery. He was raised to the rank of domestic prelate in 1940.

Msgr. Daley is survived by two brothers, William, president of Otis & Co. and one of the owners of the Cleveland Indians, and Gilbert F., and two sisters, Miss A. Louise Daley and Mrs. Frank X. Cull, all of Cleveland.

Ford Foundation Mails Checks To Hospitals

NEW YORK — The Ford Foundation says checks totaling $26,080,200 are being mailed this week to 959 hospitals in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The payments are part of 200 million dollars in hospital grants approved by the foundation's trustees last December. Payments totaling 69 million dollars were made to 2,000 hospitals in April and May.

The foundation said Sunday it hopes all eligible hospitals will have received one half of their grants by July 31. The remaining half will be paid in March, 1957.

Author Of Highway Bill Doesn't Do Much Driving

SANDUSKY, Ohio — Because "the highways are too crowded," Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md.), author of a current bill for federal highway aid, says he doesn't do much driving.

Fallon, who will participate today in the 50th annual meeting of the Ohio State Automobile Assn. at Cedar Point, said, "I have a car two years old and it has 9,000 miles on it. Driving is no longer a pleasure."

The legislator introduced the House version of a bill authorizing more than 24 billion dollars in federal aid to be used in a 13-year program for highway improvement.

Liberace's Brother Arrested In California

VAN NUYS, Calif. — Pianist Liberace's younger brother, Rudolph, 24, is due in court as the result of an unsuccessful search for his wife.

Rudy, a studio film editor, was arrested on suspicion of burglary after residents in Granada Hills complained he was pounding on doors with a garden hose. He was released from jail on $1,000 bail under a writ returnable Thursday.

Police said they found the younger Liberace in his car near the homes of two complaining residents. He told them he was looking for his wife, with whom he had had an argument earlier, they reported.

The officers said the suspicion of burglary booking was a technical one for investigative purposes.

Stevenson, Kefauver Begin To Patch Up Differences

By The Associated Press
Sen. Estes Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson apparently were on the way today toward patching up differences arising from their rivalry for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In the Republican camp there still was no sign of any immediate authoritative announcement on President Eisenhower's political plans in the light of his latest illness.

The Kefauver-Stevenson reconciliation began with a frank admission Sunday from Kefauver that he erred in conducting a "personal" type campaign against Stevenson in latter stages of the Florida and California primary fights, both won by Stevenson.

"I got mad, lost my head," Kefauver said in a television session. "In the heat of the campaign you sometimes say things you wouldn't say if you thought them over."

Stevenson said he was not in a position to say if he would accept Kefauver's remarks, but he said he was pleased.

But Kefauver also reaffirmed that he has no intention of withdrawing from the race for the nomination despite his close defeat in the key Florida primary and a crushing loss in the equally important California primary.

He said also he would take no part in any "behind the scene" maneuvering to throw his support to another candidate if he is unable to win the nomination himself.

Republicans wondering if Eisenhower will reconsider his earlier decision to run again after recovering from his Sept. 24 heart attack got no help Sunday from James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Only white Amoco-Gas guarantees no lead fouling

Power loss between the pump and the pavement is caused by Lead Fouling. That's a gamble you take with any leaded gasoline. Lead deposits on pistons, plugs and valves can waste octane power, cripple engine efficiency—and that's true of any leaded gasoline regardless of fancy color, fancy pump or fancy name. And no additive will remove those deposits once they form.

Amoco-Gas alone can guarantee no lead fouling... because it contains no lead, it can never leave the slightest lead deposit. Amoco is all gas. It can all burn, it's all power. 100% POWER! See the difference for yourself when you buy it—Amoco-Gas is clear white. See the difference when you use it—watch that mileage record improve!

So get all the high octane power you pay for—all that any car requires—with white unleaded Amoco-Gas—the only gas that Guarantees No Lead Fouling.

LOOK WHAT HAPPENS TO PISTONS:

LEAD FOULING

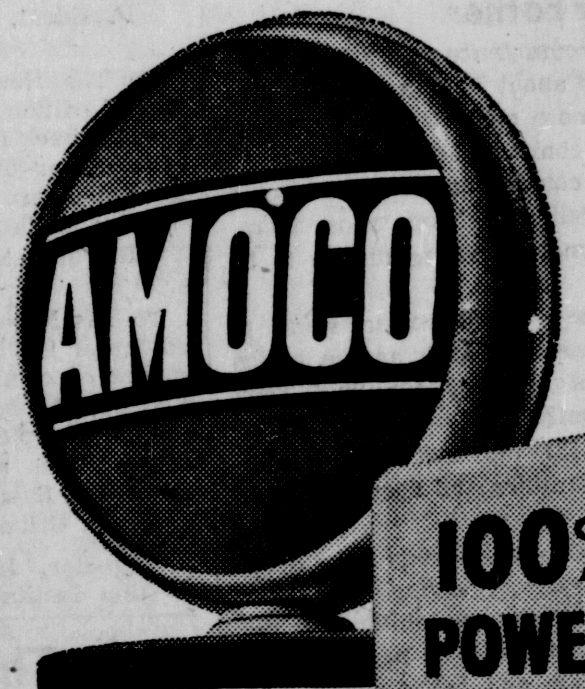

Crusty lead deposits on piston from road-tested engine run 42,168 miles with a nationally-sold leaded premium gasoline. When hot, they caused misfiring, wasted power.

NO LEAD FOULING

Piston from identical type engine after 45,423 miles—road-tested with Amoco-Gas. Note complete freedom from harmful deposits. Engine operated perfectly.

THESE UNRETouched PHOTOS are dramatic, visual proof that only unleaded Amoco-Gas will not—cannot—build up harmful metallic deposits on engine parts. Only Amoco-Gas can pass this no lead fouling test.

100% POWER

Guaranteed NO LEAD FOULING

High Price For Nostalgia

Before Gov. Lausche makes up his mind about broadening the call for a special session of the general assembly to include a proposed purchase of Cedar Point as a state park, there are some monetary wrinkles to be ironed out.

This is not a proposal to take an ordinary area off the tax duplicate with a nominal loss in taxes. It is a proposal to buy an entertainment area originally developed by private enterprise and now being eyed by real-estate developers for conversion into a luxury-home settlement.

It would be of statewide interest to Ohioans only if its entertainment facilities were redeveloped. That means the state would have to pour a large sum of money into new capital investment and additional large amounts into operating expense. If the present owners cannot keep Cedar Point going for pay, why then reason is there to believe the state of Ohio could keep it going for free without covering large deficits?

Nothing has a livelier appeal to tax-spenders than a proposal to jump into another tax-pending project that would be good for the people's bodies, their souls, their morale, or which would make them feel good.

That seems to be the argument in favor of taking over Cedar Point as a state park—that it would make Ohioans feel good to own this well known and once-booming resort area.

Would it make you feel good to know that a state already spending more than it has in sight to collect had bought a rundown summer resort? Or isn't your nostalgia for old Cedar Point as strong as your misgivings about the initial cost, the overhead and your personal ability to cough up more money for luxuries when some of the necessities are going begging?

A Blow On The Nose

New York City's transportation boss, Mike Quill, was on the public's side in last Thursday's quickie strike that tied up subway service without notice.

The strike was called by an independent union were necessary to avert panics on jammed sub-Union, which is Boss Quill's domain. But it was called at the expense of public safety and convenience, and that is Quill's specialty.

Heroic efforts by police and subway guards were necessary to avert panics on jammed subway platforms. Hundreds of thousands of subway riders were stranded for hours. There were so many repercussions they could not all be accounted for—swamped telephone service, for example.

Once more the patient public was given cause to wonder about the responsibility of unionists who weaken their claim to immunity from many of the laws and contracts which govern the acts of others.

Unionism in the United States long since outgrew the stage in which it needed special protection to stay alive. It has grown into a stage in which special protection is needed to keep it from doing injury to others.

While a minority union of subway unionists were creating an emergency in New York Thursday afternoon, the Amalgamated Me at Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America was adopting a resolution in its convention in Cincinnati against strikes called in a spreading "anti-labor climate."

The Meat Cutters are alert to a danger that grows every time another union hits the patient public on the nose as a demonstration of strength, with no thought of public welfare.

Something For Father

It is a built-in circumstance of Father's Day that most comment about it is made by men, because men are more numerous than women in the jobs where commenting is done.

The truth is, of course, that fathers should not be allowed to deliver opinions about themselves at such a time. They are unable to be objective.

If they were, they would revise some of their preconceived notions, such as the notion they are the heads of their families. They aren't. They are family handymen. If they assert their headship, they are criticized as minor despots by their families and also by friends and neighbors.

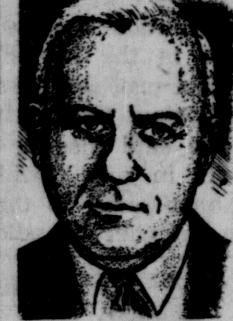

As handymen, they do what needs to be done, such as making money, mowing the lawn, trimming trees, spanking unruly children, walking dogs, helping with the dishes, passing judgment on women's hats and being handy with pliers, screw drivers and crying towels. Most fathers enjoy this in their addle-headed fashion. It makes them feel important. It gives them a chance to wonder what their broods would do if they weren't there to hold things together.

The best treat any father can have on Father's Day, therefore, is to hear the brood wonder about the same thing. "Gee, Dad, I wonder who would mow the lawn if you weren't here" — that sort of thing. It makes a father feel necessary, and that is the highest reward of fatherhood.

Old-Fashioned Peril

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The biggest news story in the world today — and the hardest to write — relates to the grave danger of defeat which faces the United States and its allies at the hands of the Soviet gangsters who control the largest single military apparatus of all time.

It isn't solely a question of atomic bombs or intercontinental bombers or missiles. Even if the United States Congress appropriated all the money the Air Force is asking for, it wouldn't alter the situation. The next war may never see atomic weapons of any kind used because of the danger of mutual destruction. Hence, the potential value of conventional armies with conventional navies and air forces and conventional bombs becomes more important than ever before, coincident with some form of counter-strategy to meet the infiltration of smaller countries by the enemy.

What stands out as the central fact about the whole problem is the virtual certainty that neither side will use atomic bombs or weapons because public opinion in all countries will prohibit their use. Nuclear war will not be tolerated.

The threat of conventional war, therefore, will take its place. In this the United States and its allies are woefully weak. They have not awakened to the need of this deterrent, too.

The truth is a paradox — General Le May is right in wanting all the air power he can get as a deterrent and Generals Ridgway and Taylor are right also in wanting all the conventional arms they can get as a deterrent.

The three armed services are right on the whole in emphasizing the need for more of each of their respective forces. Their disputes reflect an honest groping for some solution to the most difficult problem America has ever faced.

THE REAL FACTOR of fear is derived from the prospect that, even though no international agreement exists or may exist, the aggressors will, of their own volition, refrain from the use of any nuclear weapons. Then what?

Would the western allies ever initiate the use of such weapons in defense and thus invite retaliation? Military men are confident that the answer will be "yes." Political governments — civilians who control them — will have the decision and the consensus of many U.S. civilian officials here and in Europe is that the answer will be "no."

The idea of "race suicide" and of "wiping the human race from the face of the earth" has been so widely advertised everywhere that what began as a Communist propaganda line a few years ago — when the Soviet government was in an inferior and unprepared state with respect to the manufacture of superbombs — now has been endorsed inside the United States by high officials, scientists, spokesmen for the church and many sections of the press.

It seems clear that no civilian government in the free world will ever authorize the initial use of atomic weapons.

All this means is that as the chances of a nuclear war grow remote, due to the stalemate in superbomb strength and the state of public opinion on both sides of the Iron Curtain, the military control of the world will go to those governments which have the advantage in conventional arms.

As a result, Moscow and Peking will dominate both Europe and Asia. Western Europe, which has up to now considered itself protected by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, will discover in due time the fallacy of the "new look" in military organization.

Diminution of ground forces and the arming of remaining divisions with nuclear weapons merely emphasizes the danger that Moscow would conquer western Europe without firing a single shot, because nuclear weapons would never be used.

THE SOVIETS have offered to reduce their land armies by 1,200,000 men. This, however, is a small proportion of their total. It is a clever maneuver designed to get the West to deplete its far smaller armies.

The Communists, coincidentally, have begun their "parliamentary offensive," which means infiltration in the parliaments of western Europe and a stepped-up activity inside the United States, where already three Supreme Court Justices say that Communist activity is just "another political party."

Thus, on the political front as well as on the military front, the Communists are threatening. The whole answer doesn't lie merely in spending more money for air power or in spending more money than ever before to mobilize ground armies — even though both are necessary.

It lies basically in the principle reiterated a few days ago by Secretary of State Dulles, when he said:

"There is only one cure for the evils of the imposed Soviet dictatorship — that is government which derives its powers from the consent of the governed. This is a lesson that history teaches, that Khrushchev confirms and which needs to be applied if we are to have a world society of peace and justice."

THIS IS BUT another way of saying that the peoples of the Soviet Union and the satellite states hold the key to peace. They must be persuaded to choose a free government.

It's the only thing that can truly make the world safe for the continuance of democratic governments anywhere. It requires a job of infiltration and conversion through every avenue of moral force.

It's a job which the West has all too long neglected.

'Pardon Me -- I'd Like To Take His Pulse'

The Practice Of Administrative Law

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

I have never met Murray M. Chotiner, a California lawyer and politician, who has served Earl Warren, William Knowland and Richard Nixon as a campaign manager. He was also Tom Dewey's manager in Southern California when Dewey hoped to be nominated for the Presidency.

In a word, Mr. Chotiner is a professional. Had Chotiner devoted himself entirely to the law and avoided politics, he might have turned himself into a glamorous personality in Beverly Hills, where he has his offices.

HE COULD THEN have handled the marriage and divorce business of his clients and got himself mentioned often as associated with well-advertised women who specialize in matters matrimonial.

Instead Chotiner went in for political management which meant that he was constantly making his own enemies and taking on the enemies of his proteges.

He is now involved in a quarrel with some Democrats who are trying to establish the position that Chotiner has been a lawyer for crooks and that therefore Nixon should not be candidate for vice president.

Obviously if a man is a lawyer and is in politics and has clients, most of his clients will be men in trouble. That is the business of a lawyer, to look after men in trouble.

IF CONGRESS EVER reached the state of self-examination and self-criticism, it might see whether the law firms to which members of Congress belong, have no clients who are in trouble of one sort or another. And some of these troubles must be with the government with which many citizens have problems.

Had Chotiner not been Nixon's campaign manager, nobody would have been surprised that among his clients were some who are in trouble.

And what is more, nobody would have been surprised that he received a fee of $5,000. Lawyers charge lustily for their services, in or out of court, and a $5,000 fee is not a very big fee as anyone who gets into trouble knows.

Lawyers do not have fixed rates but charge what the traffic will bear, which is their right if they can get the customers to pay.

AS I SAY, I have not met Murray M. Chotiner but I have read a statement which he issued to the press and in which he says:

"If they (the committee's counsel) are not playing politics and are sincere in their desire to determine whether lawyers have been using 'influence' in the handling of cases before Federal agencies, let them call all lawyers in the United States who have been prominent in political activities, and all lawyers in government, irrespective of party affiliation, who are still associated with law firms handling clients in connection with Federal agencies, and ask them the identical questions that have been propounded to me."

This strikes me as a very whole-some proposition although probably impractical because of the large number involved and surely murderous because it might lead to too many suicides. If the rumors one hears about such subjects even approximate the truth, there would have to be some suicides.

SINCE ADMINISTRATIVE law has become prevalent, many important matters are handled not in court, before judge and jury, but in the privacy of a bureau conference, or perhaps over a luncheon or dinner table.

Administrative law is still a new field and its procedures have not yet jelled and therefore are subject to private judgment as to what is right and what is wrong. Administrative law can, in time, replace the procedures developed under English common law which, for three centuries, governed us.

There are many lawyers in Washington who are specialists in administrative law and who know how to appear advantageously to their clients before particular bureaus of government.

THESE SPECIALISTS do very well as a rule because, to use a local colloquialism, they know their way around. Apparently, Murray Chotiner, as a Republican, knows his way around in this Administration and therefore those who require such a lawyer, sought him out, in disregard of distance.

Sen. Joe McCarthy was once chairman of the committee which is now investigating Chotiner as a lawyer and a politician. McCarthy was rapped over the knuckles on the ground that he employed unusual and unwarranted methods.

Chotiner, in his statement, takes the position that Sen. McCarthy's successors are very bad boys. But he does not blame the senators, only their counsel. They are the successors to Roy Cohn.

From One Who Knows

It is a crying shame, as far as I'm concerned, that President Eisenhower and I never will get together to swap notes on Our Operations.

For the first time, I have something to contribute to a conversation with a chief executive of the United States. I don't know beans about foreign aid or any of the ponderous matters he is supposed to grasp in a wink, but having been through the works on the same kind of operation he had I could tell him a thing or two about that.

Take that little tube, for example — the one the papers say the doctors ran up his nose, down his throat and into his stomach to take the strain off his digestive apparatus while it was pulling itself together after his operation. There is only one way to live with that baby, and that is to learn how to manipulate the rascal when the nurse isn't looking.

The secret is to find out as much about it as the nurses know, then to take advantage of this knowledge on the sly to make the tube bearable. There is a little clamp on the thing somewhere between you and the pump that is hidden on the lower deck of the bedside stand, Mr. President. When the going gets rough, you reach out a furtive hand and undo the clamp, Mr. President, and whoosh! That does it. You get pumped out in a hurry.

Then there is the matter of the discomfort caused by the tube where it makes the loop down the throat after coming up the old proboscis. You ease that off, sir, by pretending you are scratching your nose but what you really are doing is to put slack in the tube to keep it from rubbing on the place where the loop is.

This will bring down the wrath of all the guss-budgets in uniform, and they will be stern about it. But they cannot keep a man from scratching his nose — certainly not when the patient is preident of the United States.

And about that first unsupported stroll after the croaker has taken out the stitches or clamps, or whatever was used — there's a secret to that, too, Mr. President.

The secret is to keep veering in the direction the tenderness in the midriff makes you want to veer in. This will conceal your list to port or starboard, as the case may be, and fool the observers into concluding it is time to let you at home, where you can list in whatever direction feels good.

But here is what we really would like to tell the President — about caviar. The trick after one of these plumbing-repair jobs is to recapture that wonderful hungry feeling, the one that makes a patient feel he could eat a horse if he could corner it.

Caviar is best. There's something about sturgeon eggs well salted that gratifies the innards of a digestive patient as nothing else can. Doctors do not know this, being addicts of broth and various innocuous goops that are what some other doctor once ordered for a digestive patient.

Have Mrs. Eisenhower smuggle in a little jar of caviar, Mr. President, and slurp it up on the sly. The medical practitioners will be overjoyed at the results. Since most caviar comes from Russia, international relations will be firm up, to boot.

And another thing, Mr. President. Don't try to chop wood. It will tear you apart. Golf? Maybe, but take it easy. Take it from one who knows; there will be a hitch in your backswing for a long time to come. The doctors never have learned how to sew in gussets. They just take in tucks.

Once Over

By M. I. PHILLIPS

Letter For Special Delivery

Mr. Paul Butler, Chairman
Democratic National Committee.

Dear Paul:

I see where you have charged that Ike's doctors have "gone too far in creating a political medical science" and that the sick-room bulletins and their usage had a propagandist angle. I know you don't intend it but, Gosh, Paul, you have created an impression you are unhappy that the bulletins showed Ike wasn't in worse shape.

You could win an Oscar for Unfair Pokes at the medical profession, President's physicians, presidential secretaries, sick-room charts, nurses and sick Republicans in general. In my book you are wrong, on account of Democrats welcome good news from a sick-room as happily as anybody else, and few were upset by the bulletins that the President was not as sick as feared.

I don't dig your reaction. You don't want sick-room news gloomier, do you? You don't want surgeons passed on for political affiliations?

Gosh, Paul, I thought the bulletins plenty distressing. "His pulse, blood pressure, temperature and respiration are essentially normal. Appropriate antibiotics were administered. He is still on an intravenous diet," one bulletin said. (Is that too political? Do you think mention of an intravenous diet too helpful to a Republican?)

"He is getting glucose and water. He slept at intervals and had three small doses of Demarol," Secretary Hagerty said. (Is it unfair to the Democratic Party to say that much and are you hinting that he didn't sleep at all and got five doses of Demarol, which would be enough to defeat him in November if the public knew?)

The press asked if Ike slept in a special bed like in Denver and Hagerty said, "No. He is in a regular hospital bed." (Is there political propaganda in reference to hospital beds and would it be cleaner politics if Hagerty had Ike sleeping in a Denver-type bed?)

"He walked fifteen feet and back and sat in a chair with his feet on an ottoman," said one bulletin. (I hope you don't want official linesmen to measure distances, Paul. Or maybe you want ottomans kept out of this campaign.)

"The physicians agreed the President should be able to resume his full duties in from four to six weeks," a bulletin said. Dr. Heaton added the opinion the operation would make him a better risk than before. Is that political?

Could it be you would take a cue from the financial pages and have a clause under each sick-room bulletin which would read, "While the above statements are believed to be authentic, they are not guaranteed?"

Yours in the smog
Elmer

So They Say

The schools here (Cleveland, Ohio) are unsurpassed in equipment and facilities, but the students are lazier, probably don't learn as much. —Miss Mervine Merkertchian, exchange teacher from Tehran, Iran.

It's going to be rough . . . it's going to be dirty, and it's going to be tough. They (the Democrats) are going to throw everything at us (the GOP) including the kitchen sink. —James Hagerty, White House press secretary.

To The News: We were thrilled as we read the Salem News special edition of June 5, showing the progress of our former home town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Taylor
Bainbridge, N. Y.

To The News: Just a brief note to congratulate The News on its sesqui issue.

Dale T. Culbertson,

To The News: I have just read the Salem News issue of June 5. On behalf of the commission may I wish the city of Salem and The News a future in consonance with the accomplishments of the past.

Missing Child's Body Is Found

Long Search Ended For John Mower, 8

CLEVELAND (AP) — Since last Wednesday, when he left home for a playground, 8-year-old John Dale Mower had been missing.

And then Sunday afternoon a long search came to an end.

A small body was spotted in the waters of Lake Erie, about 500 feet off the Lake Shore Country Club.

Members of the Coast Guard were summoned by the boaters who made the discovery.

A short while later, at the Coast Guard station in Cleveland Harbor, the boy's stepfather, Ted Haake, 26, knew in a glance the body was that of Johnny. He recognized the black shoes, with zippers, which the boy had been wearing when he started for So-winski playground on the east side. The lad's blue jeans were on the body, but a knit shirt was missing.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Virginia Haake, 32, sobbed, "I can't believe he's dead." She was not permitted to see the body until it was taken to the county morgue. Later, the boy's father, John D. Mower, 33, confirmed the identification at the morgue.

The body bore no marks of violence, said homicide chief David E. Kerr.

Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County coroner, planned a full examination to determine whether drowning was the cause of the boy's death.

Police said the boy could have fallen into Doan Creek, near his home, which later was flooded by heavy rains. The creek empties into the lake.

Paster-Horning Nuptials Held In St. Paul Catholic Church

Traveling through the eastern states on a honeymoon trip are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horning, who were married Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in St. Paul Catholic Church, Rev. Fr. J. R. Gaffney officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Betty Paster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paster of 1004 Prospect

St. Mr. Horning is the son of George Horning of 1241 E. 4th St. Two vases of mixed white flowers decorated the altar for the ceremony, and the bride placed a bouquet at the shrine of the Blessed Virgin. Miss Sara Colman presided at the organ for the nuptial music.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle designed with a V-neckline on the long sleeved bodice. The full ankle-length skirt of tulle over satin was fashioned with a scalloped peplum.

A cap of lace and pleated tulle adorned with seed pearls and sequins held in place the bride's fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid combined with stephanotis on a prayer book.

Miss Patty Setting of Monaca, Pa., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Julia Raykovich of Canfield, JoAnna Trilla and Janet Grossglass of New Brighton, Pa. The bridesmaids wore white crystalline cocktail dresses with pink headbands and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations. Gown-like the bridesmaids, the maid of honor wore a Nile green headband and carried a colonial bouquet of Nile green carnations.

Carol Sue Paster was flower girl. She wore white tulle over satin and carried a small colonial bouquet of Nile green carnations. Jack Lukarcko of St. Clairsville was ring bearer.

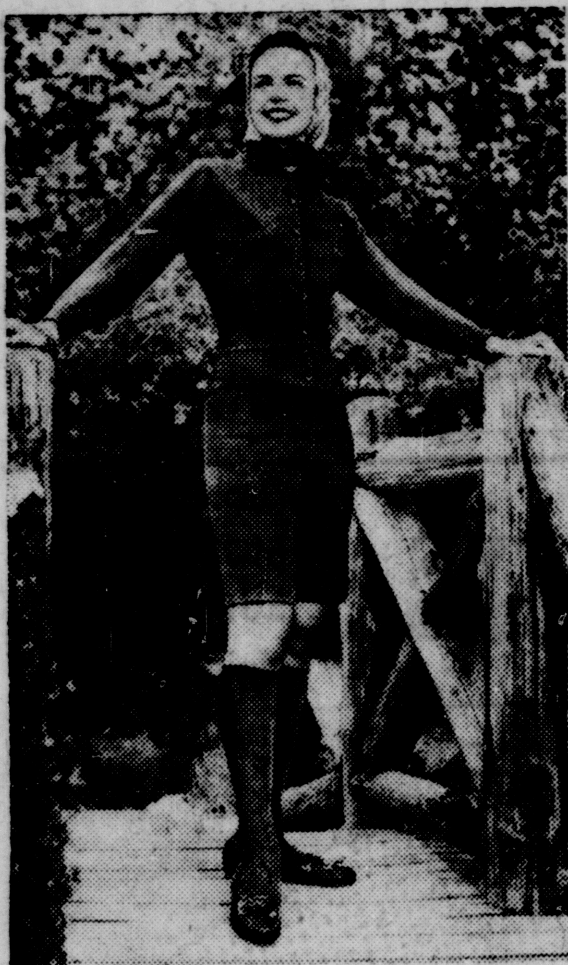

William Potts of 155 S. Union Ave. served as best man. John Rottenborn of Jennings Ave. and Eugene Zilavy of East Pershing St. ushered.

The bride's mother wore a pink nylon dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's stepmother was attired in a gray and white print with white accessories. She wore red roses.

Vases of roses decorated the table at the reception held at Copac's Lake. A four-tier wedding cake decorated with pink roses was served by Mrs. George Enders, Mrs. James Grossglass, Mrs. Paul Trella, Mrs. John Trulla and Mrs. Pete Sano.

The 200 guests were from Monaca, New Brighton and Beaver Falls, Pa., and Cleveland, Marion, Ravenna, Columbus and Salem. The bride attended Salem High School and the bridegroom, a graduate of Salem High School, is attending Ohio State University in the college of engineering.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Horning wore a two-piece powder blue dress with white accessories and a white orchid.

Nancy Heidenreich Becomes Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heidenreich of 1202 Newgarden Ave. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy, to Michael Stumperth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Stumperth of 13. 21 Eastview Drive.

Custom of open church will be observed at the ceremony which will take place July 14 at 4:03 p. m. in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

The bride-to-be and her fiancé are both Salem High School graduates. Miss Heidenreich is employed by the Youngstown Kitchen Division of American-Standard Co. Mr. Stumperth is employed by Roy W. Harris and Son, printers.

Mrs. John Hrvatin Is Hostess To Club

A baby gift was presented to Mrs. Wayne Hahn at the meeting of the C. & C. Club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Hrvatin of N. Lincoln Ave.

Mrs. Tony Hrvatin and Mrs. Harold Morrow shared the game honors. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The July 12 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Glenn McAfee of Pine Lake Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Springer and son, Bill, and daughter, Betsy, of Ashland were here during the sesquicentennial observance. They left Salem Friday afternoon for Cook Forest, Pa., where they joined their son and brother, John, for a weekend visit.

HERE ARE THE AMERICAN-DESIGNED spectator and travel clothes for the women of the 1956 United States Olympic team, taking part in the international games in Melbourne, Australia, next fall. For "between-games" hours, the girls will wear Bermuda shorts (left) in bark gray with dyed-to-match sweaters. Shorts are feather-textured wool flannel. Scarf is red, white and blue; woolen socks are gray. If it rains on the day of the official parade, the 75 women competitors from the United States will turn out (center) in Bonnie Cashion's ivory all-wool raincoat. It's a lightweight jersey lined in red-and-white plaid. The two-piece ensemble by Josell (right) features straight hip-length jacket in navy-and-white wool tweed bound in navy grosgrain. Slim skirt is navy flannel and there's a matching short-sleeved sweater.

Mrs. Briggs Hostess To Chardares Club

Mrs. Dick Briggs of Depot Road entertained the Chardares Club members Thursday evening. Honors in "500" went to Mrs. Don Boughton and Mrs. Don Diamond. Mrs. Robert Hopperich received the consolation prize.

Mrs. Robert Halverstadt will entertain the group July 5 at the home of Mrs. Jack Circle of Washington St.

The hostess served lunch to the eight guests.

Picnic Is Discussed By Jolly Time Club

Plans for a picnic were discussed when the Jolly Time Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Roger Ziegler of RD H5, Salem.

Nine members and a visitor enjoyed the social evening. Mr. Ziegler showed colored slides taken on recent trips.

Mrs. Perry Huffman of 281 Vine St. will be hostess at the July 19 meeting.

NURSES TO MEET TONIGHT All registered nurses are asked to meet tonight at 8 at the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses Home.

Damascus

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace entertained at open house honoring her mother, Mrs. Letta Bohner, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Shannon Steinmetz of Winter Haven, Fla., who spent a week at the Wallace home.

Eighty were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace entertained at a picnic Sunday honoring their nephew, LaVerne Wallace, who left for the army Tuesday.

Paula Buttermore was honored at a party in observance of her fourth birthday by her mother, Mrs. Paul Buttermore Jr.

Leaders and committee members of Girl Scout troop held a meeting recently, at which time Mrs. Joseph Bush, leader, resigned. Mrs. Charles Duriga was elected to take her place. All Girl Scout members will participate in the parade July 13, the first evening of the Damascus Volunteer Firemen's festival.

Progressive Farm Women's Club will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Franke.

During the Allegheny Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Stoneboro, Pa., Rev. C. R. McPherson of Damascus was re-elected Pioneer secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Danklef are spending the weekend in Dayton. Mrs. Danklef and sons, Stevie and Jackie will remain a week. Mr. Danklef and son, Tom will then rejoin them in Dayton for the wedding of their son David, to Miss Frances Seigler of Dayton, June 23. Tom Danklef will be best man for his brother.

Rev. James Cope, pastor, gave the opening prayer when the Fathers and Sons of the Damascus Methodist Church were honored at a banquet Wednesday evening in the social room of the church with Joseph Bush and Leland Knoedler in charge of arrangements.

Gifts were presented G.H. McDonald for being the oldest father present, and Robert McDonald for the youngest father in attendance. Gifts were presented 1956 graduates by Rev. Cope.

Appropriate remarks were made by Joseph Bush who read the poem "What is a Boy" by Allen Beck, and "Father and Son" by Lawrence Hawthorne. A film was also shown.

Mrs. G. H. McDonald was chairman of the dinner committee with the tables decorated in a summer theme with summer flowers. Mr. Bush paid a tribute to the ladies who served and also to all mothers and fathers.

A flag day program was presented when a meeting of Garfield Grange was held Wednesday evening with Paul Somerville acting master substituting for Robert McCracken, Master.

Announcement that grange members of Mahoning County will be taken on an airplane ride June 23 (in case of rain June 30) sponsored by Mahoning County Pomona Grange from the airplane field near Austintown.

Lovely gifts were presented the honoree, and lunch in a green and yellow theme, with baby rattles for favors, was served with 15 in attendance.

Robert Morrow thanked the grange in behalf of the boys of the baseball team for their entry in the league in Salem. "America the Beautiful" was sung in opening the flag day program.

Roll call was answered by each one telling "What the Flag Means to Me." Readings were "Stars and Stripes" by Robert Morrow; "Toast Today," Mrs. Florence Mather; "Father's Day," Mrs. Wanda Bedell; "Dad," Mrs. G. R. Morton; recitation, Bonnie Maurer; closing song, "America." Next meeting June 27. A dairy program will be presented.

Mrs. Wilford Hoopes was honored at a stork shower Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Virgil Cobbs with Mrs. Kenneth Phillips and Mrs. Frank Denny assisting.

Yankees Drop Indians 8 Games Behind With 9-4 Victory

Dodgers, Pirates Drop Sunday Doubleheaders

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Charlie Grimm's last official act as manager of Milwaukee was to announce Joe Adcock would play both games at Brooklyn Sunday. It was one of the best moves he ever made — for the new manager, Fred Haney.

Before Grimm knew he was going to resign, he told the players Saturday he was taking Adcock off the bench and starting him at first base as a reward for his pinch homer in Saturday's game. Before the night was over, Grimm was out and Haney was in.

Adcock hit three home runs for Milwaukee Sunday, one of them the first ever hit over the left field stands at Ebbets Field, as the Braves swept a doubleheader for Haney 5-4 and 3-1.

Despite a double defeat by St. Louis, the Pittsburgh Pirates still held the National League lead by a half game. The Cards dumped the Pirates 3-1 on Stan Musial's two-run homer and 8-3 on homers by Hank Sauer and Bob Del Greco.

Either the Cincinnati Redlegs or Brooklyn Dodgers could have sneaked into the lead by winning a pair. The Dodgers dropped two and the Redlegs had to settle for a split with New York. After successive homers by Willie Mays and Bill White gave the Giants the opener 7-6, Joe Nuxhall shut out New York with two singles for a 1-0 verdict.

Robin Roberts ended his personal losing streak by pitching the Phillies to his first victory since May 24 with a seven-hitter. 7-1 but the Chicago Cubs bounced back to win the second 7-4 on Sam Jones' six-hitter.

Rookie Norm Siebern and Yogi Berra ripped Early Wynn for a pair of two-run homers in the first inning as the New York Yankees drubbed Cleveland 9-4. The defeat dropped the Indians into fourth place.

Chicago pounded Washington for 20 hits and a 20-2 romp in the opener and then settled back to absorb a 10-4 beating in the second game. The results left the White Sox 5½ games back of the Yankees.

Frank Sullivan beat Detroit for the 10th straight time with the help of a 19-hit Boston attack in a 13-2 romp. Baltimore's Bob Nieman, a .435 hitting terror when he sees Kansas City pitching, hit a three-run homer with the score tied in the eighth inning as the Orioles whipped the A's 7-2.

The largest Ebbets Field crowd since June 3, 1951, a total of 34,394, saw Adcock crash his homer with the score tied 4-4 in the ninth inning of the first game. Big Joe already had hit a two-run homer and a single in the opener. He started the Braves on the way in the second game with his ninth homer of the year in the second inning.

Tom Poholsky and Willard Schmidt, with an assist from Jim Konstanty, pitched St. Louis to its sweep at Pittsburgh, beating Vern Law and Luis Arroyo.

The Polo Grounds doubleheader presented a sharp contrast between wild slugger with six homers and a total of seven pitchers in the first game box score and a tight 1-0 game in the second. In addition to Mays and White, homers were hit in the first game by Dusty Rhodes and Daryl Spencer of New York and Gus Bell and Johnny Temple of Cincy.

Roberts got slugging support from homers by Del Ennis and Willie Jones against the Cubs. He had a one-hit shutout until the seventh. Eddie Miksis homered and drove in three runs to back up Jones in the second game.

At Cleveland, it was 4-0 with nobody out in the first when Wynn gave way to Don Mossi. Whitey Ford injured his back in the second and gave way to Tom Morgan. The eventual winner was Rip Coleman.

Minnie Minoso blasted four hits and Sherm Lollar and Luis Aparicio, three each in the White Sox's first game attack behind Dick Donovan. Chuck Stobbs, in trouble all the way, beat Chicago for the third time in the second game.

Ted Lepcio had a three-run homer and three singles in Boston's slaughter of Detroit. Hector (Skinny) Brown won his fourth straight for Baltimore with an eight-hitter.

Junior Legion Beats Columbiana, 4-3

The Salem Junior Legion baseball nine stopped the Columbiana Legion team at Columbiana yesterday 4-3. This win sets the Legion season record at two wins and two losses.

Luke Phillips was the winning hurler for Salem as he allowed only 5 hits in 6 2-3 innings. He was relieved in the last of the seventh by Jim Meissner. Kenny Warrick took the loss for Columbiana.

Bob Kelly with a double and two RBIs, Luke Phillips with two doubles and an RBI, and Bob Huffer with two singles led the Salem team in the hitting department.

Salem tallied four runs on eight hits and they committed two errors, while Columbiana scored three runs on five hits and they also made two errors.

The Salem Legion's next contest will be played tomorrow night at 6 p.m. at Centennial Park when they meet New Middletown of Boardman.

Tebbetts Tries To Shake Team Out Of Slump

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs has started some lineup changes to try shaking the team out of a hitting slump.

He benched third-sacker Ray Jablonski in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader with New York, replacing him with Jim Dyck.

Jabbo's hitting spearheaded the Reds' rise early in the season after a rocky start, but his work at the plate has been progressively less effective recently.

And Wally Post was put on the bench Saturday, his right field job taken by Bob Thurman. He returned to the lineup in Sunday's second game against the Giants, but got only one single.

There was little similarity between the two games, except that they were both won on one-run margins.

The Giants took the opener, 7-6, after a free-hitting contest which had six homers, four by New York, and in which five pitchers saw action, three of them Redlegs.

But the Reds came back to win the second game, 1-0, in a tight pitchers' duel in which Joe Nuxhall brought Cincinnati its first shutout this season.

Nuxhall yielded only two hits to the Giants, striking out eight and walking four. His double was the game's only hit better than a single.

The scoring Cincinnati run came in the second inning when Ted Kluszewski hit a single. Rookie Frank Robinson got on base when hit by a pitch from Ruben Gomez and Klu came home on a single by Smoky Burgess.

In the first game, the Reds built up an early four-run lead, then saw it melt in the later innings. The split of two games allowed the Reds to climb back into second place in the National League, just behind Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati turns in at Philadelphia tonight for the first of three games with the Phillies. Hal Jeffcoat is slated to oppose Harvey Haddix.

Ebbets Field Does Wonders For Adcock

BROOKLYN (AP) — Joe Adcock admits he is no Ted Kluszewski, Willie Mays, Duke Snider or even Gil Hodges but if he could play 77 games in Ebbets Field, he might be all four rolled into one.

The tall, easy-going first baseman of the Milwaukee Braves, returned to the lineup Sunday following a benching for weak hitting, walloped three home runs in his favorite park to spark the Braves to a 5-4, 3-1 doubleheader sweep over Brooklyn and boost his club to within two games of the front running Pittsburgh Pirates.

That's not all. One of Adcock's home runs was a tremendous blast clear over the left field roof and out of the park. It came in the ninth inning, off righthander, Ed Roebuck, and snapped a 4-4 first game tie. And to top it all, the blast was hit with a bat Adcock borrowed from the Brooks' Carl Furillo.

Adcock's signaic blast was believed to be the first ever hit out of the park in left field.

In all, Adcock has hit 21 home runs at Ebbets Field, a mark bettered only by Stan Musial's 30 among the active players.

"I can't explain why I've always hit so well here," Adcock said. "All I know is I just love to hit here — more than in any other park. I know I can't hit with Kluszewski, Snider, Mays or Hodges but if I played here half the season I believe I'd hit as many homers as they do."

Wins Amateur Golf Title

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—Frank Rizak, Cambridge, won the southeastern Ohio district amateur golf championship Sunday at Hocking Hills Country Club here with a 136 score for 36 holes.

Howard Baker Saunders of Galipolis was runner-up.

In team competition, Athens Country Club was first with 906 for its six top men, followed in order by Lancaster, Logan, Chillicothe and Marietta.

Charlie Cotton, who has built up quite a following at St. Nicholas Arena with two upset victories over Joey Giardello, is back again tonight to box Franz Suzin, an import from Bremen, Germany.

Suzin stopped Moses Ward in Montreal May 17. He comes with recommendations as a solid puncher and willing brawler of the Peter Mueller type.

DuMont will telecast to some parts of the country.

De Marco May Get Next Shot At Saxton's Title

BOSTON (AP) — Tony De Marco may get the next shot at Johnny Saxton's welterweight title unless the New York Boxing Commission grants a license to Frank (Blinky) Palermo, the champion's manager.

Negotiations for a Saxton-De Marco title bout, possibly in September, opened immediately after the Boston slugger halted Vince Martinez' 21-bout victory string with a 10-round decision Saturday at Fenway Park.

Tribe Faces Red Sox Next

CLEVELAND (AP) — The fourth-place Cleveland Indians, after a bitter weekend of Yankee miseries, must contend next with the ruinous Boston Red Sox.

It will be up to Bob Lemon to lead off for the Tribe Tuesday night in a three-game set with Boston in a struggle for third place, which the Bostons now hold after downing Detroit Sunday.

Those three games might turn into a nightmare of repetition, if the Cleveland club isn't able to change its course.

The Indians ended their last road trip by getting only one victory and one tie out of five games in Boston. Then they opened their home stand against New York, and the Yankees took three out of three, the last one being a 9-4 verdict Sunday before the largest home crowd of the season, 41,765.

Among other things, that left Cleveland eight games behind the first place Yanks. The Indians haven't won a game since a week ago today, when Cal McLish won in Boston. The Tribe is only one game ahead of Detroit and Baltimore, which are tied for fifth.

And the prospect against Boston is no dish of tea. For the season the Red Sox have won five, tied one and lost two with Cleveland. They beat Lemon in his last start on Thursday.

It was the long ball that murdered the Cleveland club Sunday. It began in the first inning, off Early Wynn, who was destined to be the losing pitcher of the contest. He couldn't get anyone out.

First he walked Gil McDougald. Then rookie outfielder Norm Siebern parked one in the right field stands for his first major league stands for his first major league homer. Slugger Mickey Mantle singled to right, and then Yogi Berra registered another homer.

The 17th of the season, also to the right field stands. Don Mossi had to take over the pitching at that point.

Young Siebern singled in another run in the fourth, but it was in the seventh that the real trouble came. Mantle walked, went to third on a single by Berra, and scored on a single by Joe Collins.

At that point McLish relieved Mossi and Hank Bauer promptly smacked a three-run homer into the left field stands, his 14th of the year.

The Indians got a gift run off starter Whitey Ford in the second inning when he walked Mossi with the bases loaded. Ford shortly thereafter left the premises with a sore back. Off Tom Morgan the Tribe got four hits and two runs in the third inning. The last Cleveland run was in the seventh, when Chico Carrasquel was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on a grounder and scored on a single by Jim Busby.

Stu Locklin, an outfielder, was sent to Indianapolis on option Sunday, bringing the Cleveland roster down to 25. Locklin was released from the Army last June, and because of his military service was carried as an extra man for a year. But Sunday the year was up and Locklin was on his way.

Calhoun Bids For Top Rating Friday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rory Calhoun crashes the big time Friday when he gets his first Madison Square Garden main event against Willie Vaughn of Hollywood, Calif., in a bid for rating among the top 10 middleweights.

Unbeaten in his 21-bout career, the 21-year-old White Plains, N.Y., slugger has been moving up fast in the last six months.

Vaughn, 23, is the California state champ but has been inactive this year. His record is 26-11-4.

Charlie Cotton, who has built up quite a following at St. Nicholas Arena with two upset victories over Joey Giardello, is back again tonight to box Franz Suzin, an import from Bremen, Germany.

Suzin stopped Moses Ward in Montreal May 17. He comes with recommendations as a solid puncher and willing brawler of the Peter Mueller type.

Haney Needs Pennant To Retain Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Regardless of a routine front office statement that Fred Haney will be retained as Milwaukee Braves manager in 1957 "if he does a good job in '56," only a pennant can win the job for next season.

If a flag does not fly in Milwaukee this fall, the position may be offered to another major league manager. A reliable source said today another man was under consideration as successor to Grimm in 1957 even before Haney entered the Milwaukee organization as coach.

A report that Leo Durocher, former manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, would pilot Milwaukee in '57 was scotched by Lou Perini, president of the Braves.

"We have never contacted Leo Durocher," Perini said, "and we have no intention doing so. I think Durocher has a lot of ability but he just doesn't fit into our plans. Furthermore, I don't think Durocher would care to manage in Milwaukee."

Haney, who succeeded Charlie Grimm as Braves' manager Saturday, acknowledged his contract was only for the duration of this season with the promise that he would be retained if his performance warranted it.

"This is the toughest job I ever undertook," said the popular Haney, who as manager of the last place St. Louis Browns in 1939 and Pittsburgh Pirates in 1953-54, knows what the word "tough" means.

"I'm aware of all the talk of my being a fill-in manager," Haney said. "But that's not so. Mr. Perini and Mr. Quinn (John Quinn, general manager have given me to understand that my coming back next year depends on my performance. They are men of their word and I'm sure if I do a good job, I'll be back. If I don't do a good job, I don't want to be back."

Eight Of '55 Browns Remain Unsigned

CLEVELAND (AP) — All but eight of the Cleveland Browns who played on last year's national football championship club have signed up for the 1956 season, a month before training-camp opening.

The eight include two who aren't coming back — quarterback Otto Graham and halfback Dub Jones, who have announced retirement.

Of the remaining six, Dante Lavelli is considering retirement. Unless Lavelli returns, only Frank (The Toe) Groza will be left from the original Cleveland Browns' club of 1946. Gatski signed Saturday.

The other veterans whose contracts are still out are ends Len Ford and Horace Gildom, guards Abe Gibron and Herschel Forester and defensive halfback Ken Konz.

Bob Sweikert Killed In Racing Crash

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Bob Sweikert, a fearless champion on the track but "scared to death on the highway," met an auto racers death Sunday after he crashed on the high-banked Salem Speedway.

Sweikert, the 1955 winner at Indianapolis, brushed the wall with his sprint car while trying to pass Ed Elisian on the fourth lap. The front of his car went partially over a rail, injured two photographers in a stand, then twisted and rolled towards a retaining wall.

Sweikert was pulled from the flaming vehicle when it came to rest about 75 feet from the north end of the asphalt track.

Sweikert, 30, died of skull injuries three minutes after he was admitted to the Washington County Memorial Hospital.

The photographers, Dale Mueller of St. Louis and Ivan Shirley of Scottsburg, Ind., were treated at the hospital for minor head abrasions. Hospital sources said it appeared the photographers had been hit by pieces of rubber.

While running among the leaders in the 1956 Indianapolis race, Sweikert's car struck a wall and he ended up in the infield with a shredded tire. Running to the pits on the rim, he was able to get a new wheel and finished sixth in the race.

In addition to his widow, Sweikert is survived by three children, Oynette, 10, Stephen, 7, and Johnne, 2½.

Boston — Tony DeMarco, 146½, Boston, Dec. Vince Martinez, 146½, Paterson, N. J., 10.

In the Open, Hogan and Boros tied for second with 282. Kroll had a 285 total.

Duke's Time To Compete In Tryouts Despite Injury

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Duke's injured sprinter, Dave Sime, still expects to compete in the 100-meter dash in the Olympic final tryouts at Los Angeles June 29-30.

The speedy Sime pulled a muscle on the inner side of his left leg Saturday while running a curve in the 200-meter dash at the NCAA championships.

He dropped out of the race but had qualified for the trials in the 100 when he placed second to Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian.

Doctors advised against further racing around a curve because of the injury, but the 100 is a straightaway race.

Dr. Harold P. Muller, California and Olympic games team physician, indicated the injury wouldn't be aggravated so long as Sime runs straight ahead.

High Pressure Operator Returns

Growing Pains Developing In Home Improvement Drive

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Growing pains are beginning to develop in the national home improvement program. One is the return of the high pressure operator—something to be expected as much as flies around the picnic basket. The most unusual development, however, has been the hazard of speeding obsolescence by over improvement.

Apparently it's a fine idea to spruce up your home and put in some modern equipment, but if you overdo this—such as yielding to the urge to have a swimming pool and three-car garage in a neighborhood of little houses—you may risk as much of a loss in value as if you had done nothing.

"A common cause of economic obsolescence," according to an appraiser, "is over improvement or under improvement. This form of obsolescence occurs when the property falls in its appeal to the typical buyer." The authority is Robert D. Bloxom of Seattle, discussing depreciation in the Review of the Society of Residential Appraisers.

"An example of overimprovement," says Mr. Bloxom, "would be a large expensively built, two-story brick home having four bedrooms and two baths, recreation room and fireplace and located in a neighborhood where the typical price range is $9,000 to $12,000. This house might very well sell for $20,000 to $25,000 in a neighborhood where the price range is $20,000 and up, but what would it sell for in the lower range neighborhood?"

"Suppose that after being on the market for well over a year, this home sold for $16,000. By comparing it with sales of similar brick homes in higher priced districts it might be estimated that this same home in a district where it was typical would sell for $22,500.

"The measure of economic obsolescence here would be $7,500." So a good way to keep up with the Joneses seems to be to stay in their class.

TO BE TAKEN for a ride on a home improvement project is something else again. Ed Gavin, editor of the trade publication, American Builder, recently completed a cross-country tour of what he calls remodeling-conscious communities.

"One of the difficulties confronting homeowners who want to remodel and legitimate builders who want to join in the remodeling parade," says Ed, "is the high pressure operator who promises the moon and the stars, but fails to deliver as promised."

Gavin found the Chicago home builders on the alert, policing the field with a "remodeling arm." This arm is a Home Improvement Contractors Council. Among its purposes are to establish ethical standards for remodelers, guarantee fairness and unambiguity in contracts, to be honest about materials and methods, to eliminate fine print clauses, and to establish bonded membership to insure customers.

Similar efforts are being made in Los Angeles and Gavin listed the status in various other cities for the information of his builder readers.

IF A HOMEOWNER would remember to have his own lawyer read every sizable contract, involving amounts he can't afford to lose, the high pressure operators would soon vanish from the home improvement field.

Quizzing The Gardener

Q — Both my bleached and unbleached celery have a pronounced bitterness in flavor. Other than that, the unbleached is of fine quality. Can you perhaps tell me whether it is a certain condition of the soil which causes this bitterness or some other reason?

A — Bitterness may be caused by lack of lime in the soil. Celery is a heavy feeder and needs plenty of fertilizer and good soil. It grows best in the cooler months. Anything that slows down its growth would tend to make for poor quality.

Q — Do you have a suggestion for remedying the following situation? The lawn is slowly being covered with moss, although the grass used is beautiful.

A — Moss usually appears in poorly drained lawns where the soil fertility is low, or where there is too much shade. A good feeding will generally cause the moss to disappear. But if it persists after you have used a fertilizer, you may have to burn it out chemically. Since moss is more susceptible to nitrogenous burn than grass, the idea is to apply enough to kill the moss without permanently damaging the grass. You must, however, expect some temporary browning of the grass. Apply eight to ten pounds of ammonium sulfate to 1000 square feet of lawn. Spread it on the lawn and do not water unless the weather is quite dry.

Q — How deep should I hoe my vegetable garden soil?

A — It should be stirred only deep enough to kill weeds, especially after the crops start to send roots out into the space between the rows. This shallow disturbance is important early in the season when weed seeds are germinating.

Q — Why do my plums set poor crops of fruit in some years and good ones in others?

A — Pollination is probably related to the weather. Bad weather might interfere with insect visitation of the flowers. Also, there is evidence that plum pollen can be affected in its germination by adverse weather, and by temperature changes at that time.

Q — Should the flowers be kept picked from a strawberry bed newly set with runner plants?

A — For best results the flowers should be kept picked this year and emphasis placed on the spread of the plants by well distributed young runners.

Q — How can the iris borer be controlled?

A — Spray plants with a 50 percent wettable DDT powder at the rate of two tablespoons to a gallon of water. Since the borer eggs continue to hatch for several weeks follow with additional DDT sprays. A 3-5 percent DDT dust may also be used.

It's Easy To Plant Window Box Garden

Everyone enjoys a well-planted box, especially those folks who have neither time nor space for a backyard garden.

The success of window box gardening is largely dependent upon the size of the box and the soil. The box should be about 8 inches deep, 10 inches or more wide and about 3 feet long.

Longer boxes are difficult to handle. Three or more drainage holes must be bored in the bottom, otherwise the soil is likely to become soggy and retard plant growth. Cover the holes with pieces of broken flower pot and place an inch of rough material in the bottom of the box to further insure drainage.

The soil mixture, made up of two parts good garden loam and one part well-decomposed compost will provide sufficient foundation for root and top development. Rotted or dehydrated manure may be substituted if compost is not available. Monthly feeding with a complete fertilizer will provide nourishment.

Planting is best accomplished if the box is half-filled with soil, firmed down, and the plants then set in place. It is easy then to continue filling in with soil about the plants. For best effect, plant closer than you would in the garden. After planting, water them to compact the soil around the roots. Never allow the soil to become dry, but do not over water.

The choice of plants depends upon the location of the box. Some plants require a sunny location to produce blooms. Heliotrope, geraniums, verbena, dwarf zinnias, petunias and others are happy in the sunny window, while fuchsia, tuberous begonias and most of the foliage plants prefer shade or partial shade.

Coleus is an excellent plant where color is desired. Plants for the front of the box should have a tendency to droop. The balcony type of petunia, variegated vinca, ivy and asparagus fern are recommended. The common sweet alyssum likewise does well.

For the center of the box such plants as ageratum, bowallia, balsam, verbena and petunias are most satisfactory. In the back of the box consider geraniums, heliotrope, latana and begonias.

The box itself should be of the same color as the house, or its trim, and the flowers should be colors which are harmonious. For a red brick house white flowers and green foliage would be most attractive. For a house in which yellow is the dominant color, blue flowers are best.

But use your own ingenuity when choosing flowers for your window garden, since you are the one who is to enjoy them.

Representatives Picked For Boys' Nation

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's representatives at the Boys' Nation sponsored by the American Legion next month will be Richard Gorsuch of Westerville and Albert Hetrick of Fremont. Both are 16.

The national meeting will be held July 20-27 at College Park, Md.

The two representatives were chosen at the conclusion Sunday for the annual Buckeye Boys' State. Young Gorsuch was governor of the Buckeye State and Hetrick was mayor of the prize-winning city.

The top annual award of Buckeye Boys' State, the Mason trophy, went to Robert Coen of Mansfield, speaker of the House.

Obituary

Homer S. Roudebush

Homer Scott Roudebush, 74, of 150 W. Maryland Ave., Sebring, died at the Salem Central Clinic at 11:35 a.m. Saturday after a two-month illness of complications.

He was born in Carroll County Feb. 4, 1882. He was married to Corda Geismann May 30, 1906. She survives, together with one son, Billy, of the home; one step-daughter, Mrs. Carl Jacobs of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Burger of RD, Minerva; and one grandchild.

Mr. Roudebush lived in Sebring most of his life and was a potter. He was employed at the Salem China Co. for a number of years. He was a member of the Christian Church of Sebring, the Modern Woodmen of America lodge and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with Rev. Harold Deitch in charge. Burial will be in Mount Union Cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the funeral home.

Mrs. James London

Mrs. Grace E. London, 62, of the Goshen Road died at the City Hospital at 2 a.m. today. She had been ill six months of complications.

Born in Stark County near Alliance Aug. 13, 1893, she was the daughter of Jacob and Laura Reynolds McQuiston. She lived most of her life in this vicinity.

She married James Gilbert London Aug. 18, 1913. He survives, together with a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Taylor of Leetonia; two sons, John C. London of Stowe and Harold London of Salem; seven grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Rosa Ackelson of Salem, Mrs. Myrtle Stanley of Beloit and Mrs. Anna Snyder of Salem.

Service will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with Rev. Harold Deitch officiating.

Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

Suggett Infant

Donald Suggett, infant son of Guilford and Sarah Anderson Suggett of 409 Ohio Ave., died at birth Sunday morning at Salem City Hospital.

A sister, Carolyn Sue, survives, together with the parents.

Service was held today at 3:30 p.m. at Grandview Cemetery, with Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the First Friends Church, officiating.

Dr. Floyd E. Felger

COLUMBIANA — Dr. Floyd E. Felger, 67, of Massillon died Sunday at 6:20 a.m. in Massillon.

Born Dec. 10, 1888 in New Springfield, he was the son of John and Sarah Ann Peters Felger.

A veterinarian he attended Canfield School and was graduated with a medical degree in 1912 at Ohio State University. Dr. Felger had resided in Massillon since 1918.

He was a member of the New Springfield Evangelical and United Brethren Church.

Survivors include a son, Donald of Youngstown.

Funeral services will be held

Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the Fry Funeral Home here, with Rev. Frank Lillie, pastor of the Columbian Christian Church, officiating. Interment will be in New Springfield Cemetery.

Miss Marion Burke

Miss Marion Burke, 44 of 416 W. 23rd St., New York, N. Y., died suddenly Friday evening of a heart attack at Bellevue Hospital there.

She was secretary for the David Cohn Realty in New York.

Born in Salem Feb. 9, 1912, she was the daughter of William and Elizabeth Karch Burke. She was a member of a Catholic Church in New York City.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Alma Burke of Leetonia and Mrs. Eileen Jack of Pittsburgh, Pa.; a brother, Clarence, of Youngstown; and several nieces and nephews.

Her father preceded her in death in May, 1952 and her mother died in February, 1952.

Service will be Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Paul's Catholic Church. Rev. Fr. J. R. Gaffney will officiate.

Interment will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Stark, Loudon and Giffen Memorial Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Miss Elizabeth Coler

NORTH LIMA — Miss Elizabeth Coler, 88, of this village died of complications Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Salem City Hospital.

Born March 1, 1868 in North Lima, she was the daughter of John and Catherine Schwartz Coler and had lived in and around North Lima her lifetime.

She was a member of the Mt. Oliver Reformed Church of North Lima.

Survivors include a niece, Mrs. Ada Crouse of North Lima; and two nephews, Park of Youngstown and Ray of Struthers.

Funeral services will be Tuesday afternoon at 2 at the Fry Funeral Home in Columbiana, with Rev. O. J. Zechel, pastor of the Mt. Olivet Reformed Church, officiating. Interment will be in the North Lima Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Mrs. Oehrle Funeral

LEETONIA — Funeral services for Miss Anna Oehrle, 80, who died Saturday morning at the Castle Nursing Home at Millersburg, were scheduled for this afternoon at 2 in the Woods Funeral Home, with Rev. S. A. Yoder of Leetonia Menonite Church officiating.

Interment was to be in the Menonite Church Cemetery.

Miss Oehrle was the last direct descendant of the Oehrle family.

Mrs. Floyd LeFever

BUTLER, Pa. — Funeral services were held Sunday for Mrs. Anna LeFever, 56, of Butler, who died Friday at her home following a two-year illness. Burial was in Butler Memorial Park.

Survivors include her husband, Floyd; three sons; two daughters, her mother, Mrs. Mary Wachsmith of Salem; two sisters, Mrs. William Kroneberg of Cabot, Pa., her twin sister, Mrs. Ralph Walker of Salem; three brothers, Fred D. and Carl Wachsmith of Kensington and Leo Wachsmith of Salem; and four grandchildren.

It was believed the tree fell because of old age, as there was no wind to cause it to topple.

The body was taken to Nevada.

Carl M. Sigmund

CHAMBERSBURG — Carl M. Sigmund, 68, who resided with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Woolf east of Chambersburg, died of pulmonary embolism at 7:50 a.m. today at Alliance City Hospital.

He was born in Transylvania in December, 1888.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Richard G. Snyder and Mrs. Donald O. Roudebush, both of Alliance; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Walton-Schrader Funeral Home in Alliance, with Rev. M. B. Coldner, pastor of Alliance St. Paul's Evangelical Church, officiating. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery in Salem.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

Hubbs Funeral

Funeral service for John Allen Hubbs, 84, of 145 S. Ellsworth Ave., who died Friday afternoon at the Central Clinic of heat prostration, will be held at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

Rev. Harold Winn will officiate. Burial will be in Damascus Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Born Jan. 23, 1872 at Brownsville, Pa., he was the son of Montellus and Mary Ellen Hubbs. He was the last of his immediate family. He came to Salem five years ago from Damascus where he was employed by the West Brothers Nurseries.

He married Miss Elizabeth Hagley in 1902. She survives. A daughter died in infancy.

LIONS CLUB TO MEET

The regular business meeting of the Lions Club will be held Tuesday evening at 6 at the Lape Hotel.

Nixon

He replied that "the question of the president's future politically was not discussed."

Nixon went on to say that "our primary interest at this time" is to help bring about Eisenhower's complete recovery.

Nixon was asked then whether he got the impression that Eisenhower is "a man ready to run again."

Kourt

on which the Kangaroo Kourt stood for a period of 51 years and during that period separating more citizens from their hard-earned dollars than any man in the history of Salem. His sentence was to relax on a chaise longue in front of the First National Bank, to drink a cold mint julep and enjoy 20 minutes as an onlooker at the corner.

Dr. Donald Lease, for being instrumental in raising the tax rate by building a new high school large enough to educate all children in Beloit, Sebring, Westville and Greenford as well as all students Salem could produce in two generations. Sentenced to take a pony in front of the Murphy Co., open its mouth and explain its dental structure and the pony's relationship to a human mouth.

Lisbon Man Kills

Self In Village Square

LISBON — Wilmer G. Hollinger, 56, of 217 E. Lincoln Way died of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head Sunday morning at 1:45 a.m. on a park bench on the northeast corner of the square, village police reported.

He was born in Lisbon, the son of Wilmer D. and Mary Adams Hollinger who preceded him in death last year. He had been a press operator at the Youngstown Kitchens Division of American Standard Corp. until he injured his hand.

He is survived by a son, William Roger Hollinger of California.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Henry Funeral Home, with Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Falling Tree Kills Man

Near East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL — Harold W. Musselman, 73, of Nevada, O., was killed about 12:20 p.m. Sunday when an old tree toppled over and crushed his skull while he was fishing at Beaver Creek, near East Liverpool.

Death was ruled accidental by Columbiana County Coroner Ernest Sturgis.

He was fishing with his son, Delbert Floyd Musselman, also of Nevada, and his grandson, Delbert Floyd Musselman Jr. of East Liverpool. He had been visiting at the home of his grandson.

It was believed the tree fell because of old age, as there was no wind to cause it to topple.

The body was taken to Nevada.

Christian Church

Site Is Dedicated

The E. 6th St. 11-acre site of the proposed First Christian Church was dedicated at a special service Sunday afternoon with about 200 members of the congregation attending.

Rev. Harold Deitch, pastor, officiated during the dedication, and Albert Hanna gave an invocation.

Richard Wilson, a past president of the official church board, presented the deed to the land to Kenneth Harsh, present board chairman.

Robert Zimmerman led the group singing, and Mrs. Ruth Beery was the organist.

The congregation expects to begin construction of its new edifice sometime in 1957, with completion slated for March, 1959 when the church will observe its 100th anniversary.

4 Injured In City Traffic Accident

Four persons received minor injuries in a two-car collision at the intersection of N. Broadway and Sugartree Alley at 10:44 p.m. Saturday, police reported today.

According to police, a car driven by Robert C. Hoffman, 20, of Columbiana failed to stop for a stop sign on Sugartree Alley and smashed into the side of the car driven on N. Broadway by Kenneth L. Suggett, 26, of 198 Benton Rd.

Both autos received heavy damage.

Suggett was treated at Salem City Hospital for a possible fractured shoulder. Three passengers in his car were also treated for injuries.

They are: Richard Suggett, 31, of 320 W. State St., shock and possible fractured ribs; and Jeannine Suggett, 19, and Mark Suggett, four months, both of 198 Benton Rd., shock.

Hoffman was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way.

In other city accidents, Willie Jenkins, 56, of 862 E. Pershing St. was arrested for having no driver's license and failure to yield the right of way following an accident at the intersection of Sugartree Alley and N. Ellsworth Ave. at 3:34 p.m. Saturday.

Minor damage was caused to both vehicles when Jenkins' auto collided with a car driven by Frank Twyford, 21, of Youngstown.

Cars driven by George Sullea, 38, of RD 1, Salem and William Alexander, 18, of RD 2, Salem, received minor damages in a mishap at the intersection of N. Ellsworth Ave. and E. 2nd St. at 10:24 p.m. Saturday.

Cars driven by Daniel Bochman, 36, of 1205 Franklin Ave. and George Myers, 32, of Los Angeles, Calif., received minor damages in a collision at the intersection of Ohio Ave. and E. State St. at 3:37 p.m., Saturday.

Parade

band from the Al Koran Grotto in East Liverpool. The costumed group executed numerous drills during the march.

Also outstanding was the Al Sirat Drum and Bugle Corps from from Cleveland, international champions; and the Highland Kiltie Band of Cleveland.

The Al Sirat group was a highlight of the Stadium Show. Organized in 1922 as a drum and Life Corps, the group today has received numerous awards for its progress.

"The Spirit of '76" group of the Al Sirat corps was appropriately costumed and was a highlight of the group's unit.

The Cochran Majorettes, a 75-girl baton-twirling group performed in the finale of the show as well as in the parade.

The majorettes are junior corps champions of Ohio and won 28 first place awards in adult competition for precision drilling. They will appear at the Ohio State Fair this summer.

Paul Cochran, former state champion baton twirler, is coach and drillmaster for the unit which is comprised of four banner bearers, four color guard, a leader, 12 snare drummers, four tenor drummers, nine Swiss flag swingers, 36 baton twirlers and an announcer.

Scottish folk song and dances were presented by the Cleveland and Kiltie Band both during the parade and at the show, and the Slovenian Society sang and presented folk dance interpretations.

Outstanding among the drill teams were the district American Legion champions from the Wells-ville Legion Post 70; Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1038 teams of Alliance, national champions; and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 of East Liverpool, state champions.

Traveling from Grove City, Pa., for an appearance in the parade and show in their first performance in the city were the Bonnie Belles, a group of precision marchers and baton twirlers.

Parade marshals were representatives of Salem businesses and industries.

The Fairmount Children's Home Band and the Salem High School Band participated jointly in a flag raising executed by a color guard comprised of united veterans which opened the program at the Reilly Stadium.

Senator George H. Bender of Cleveland, principal speaker at the program, lauded the city for its execution of the 150th birthday celebration of Salem, saying that the united celebration indicated Americans are not losing sight of the main objectives which are to work together in a democracy.

Sen. Bender was introduced by Dean E. Cramer welcomed the Judge Joel H. Sharp, and Mayor distinguished guests and audience. Rev. Fr. John Cunningham of St. Paul Catholic Church gave a prayer during the program.

In a Veterans Day ceremony Sequi Queen Joan Robusch placed flowers on a simulated grave, and firing squads from various veterans groups presented a salute. The queen's court comprised of Sandy Bailey, Sue Perrault, Margaret Hannay, Carolyn Lewis, Joan Whitten, Jeannine Smith, also participated.

The Cassidyettes of Salem and Alliance marched in the parade and performed during the program in separate contingents. Other bands in the parade were the Canfield American Legion Post 177 Junior Band, the local American Legion Band, and the Greenford band.

A tremendous fireworks showing drew a large crowd to the polo grounds later in the evening.

John Herman Jr. was chairman of the parade and co-chairman of the Veterans Day committee; and others assisting were Jim Feller, assistant parade chairman; Rex Reich, Veterans Day chairman; Mrs. Ann Herman, secretary; Robert Whitehill, executive secretary; and Atty. Guy Mauro, Edward Probert, Ann August, Robert Kirchgessner, the Salem Police Department Auxiliary, among others.
